

INTERNET USAGE GUIDELINES

Communications resources for Internet access are provided to medical students when training at UCSF Fresno. Internet access is provided through the following sources:

- 1) From computers in larger training facilities such as USCF, UMC, VA and Children's Hospital
- 2) Through usage of wireless service provided at medical student housing
- 3) Through dial-up networking provided by UCSF Fresno's server.

Please Be Aware Of These Guidelines When Using All Communications Resources For Internet Access:

- Communications resources may not be used for:
 - a. Unlawful activities
 - b. Commercial purposes or personal financial gain
 - c. Any activities that violate other University or campus policies and guidelines
- Communications resources usage cannot interfere with others' use of the resources.
Usage may not be used for purposes that could directly or indirectly cause excessive strain on any electronic communications resources, or unwarranted or unsolicited interference with others' use of electronic communications resources. (Please note this is particularly important when using the Wireless Service provided at medical student housing to download music, videos, etc.)
- Communications resources cannot represent UCSF Fresno, give false identity or anonymity.
Users shall not give the impression that they are representing, giving opinions or otherwise making statements on behalf of the University or either directly or by implication, employ a false identity (the name or electronic identification of another).
- Communications resources can be used in moderation for personal purposes.
Internet access may be used for incidental personal purposes provided that such use does not: directly or indirectly interfere with the University's operation of electronic communications resources or burden the university with noticeable incremental costs. This is especially important if you decide to use the modem option from student housing where excessive use can be very expensive.
- Communications resource usage must abide by University Intellectual Property Policy:
Users should be aware of the University's policy on the protection of intellectual property including laws and policies regarding copyright, patents, and trademarks.

The above information is a summary of some of the more important guidelines regarding University Communications Resources.
